Visy's integrated supply chain (producing kraft paper and recycled paper for local markets and exports) gives us greater control over the raw materials used for our products; many of our competitors rely on third-party suppliers for their kraft paper. This puts us at a distinct advantage, especially in terms of our ability to facilitate market speed and cost efficiency. Despite Visy's 'big business' reputation, we are also sensitive to the needs of small and medium-sized operators, with the ability to serve and deliver these types of businesses. Our dedicated sales representatives ensure that we provide our personalized approach to each and all of our customers. In addition, our connection with a wide range of support services departments means that we are your one-door solution for packaging. ISO quality certification and Visy's ongoing commitment to outstanding products and services contribute to our unique position to best serve your business, regardless of your industry and requirements.
